Conference Description

The demand of effective and qualified English language teaching is undisputable particularly in this globalization era. This requires more competence teachers who are professional in executing their tasks. Thus, graduates need to have English competency sufficiently to respond to ASEAN Economic Community (AEC). Opportunities and challenges of teaching English, therefore, become urgent to address from various angles such as effective teaching, developing appropriate learning materials, assessment, evaluation as well as improving English language teachers' capacity and students' knowledge and competence. The aim of this conference is to comprehend the English language teaching paradigm across countries through the dissemination of teachers, practitioners as well as researchers' experiences.
